The Cassini PSG conference dinner will be held at the Stadsherberg de Mol, in Delft.

In the heart of the old city of Delft, between historical buildings and ancient towers, you will find Stadsherberg de Mol. Their Inn dates back to 1563 and was originally built as Stadvondelinghenhuis (an orphanage).

Behind the heavy wooden door you will find yourself suddenly 5 centuries back in time. While the candles flicker the original Delftsch Kuyten Beer is poured out of large jugs. As in Medieval times you will have to eat the meals with your Ten Commandments (also known as fingers). A minstrel and other entertainment will be present.

The dinner will be a true Medieval experience!
