Collaboration Tools

What does E-Mail have that much more modern tools do not have?

Long History (People are used to it, especially the older ones)
Ubiquity: Everyone has it

 Desirable not to loose: A default way to reach anyone in the world

Popular tools have been praised and defended:
    Slack: Real Time communication, instant reactions
            Notifications possible
            Can integrate external tools
    Google docs, Jira: Can Record decisions
                            Persistent
Also mentioned: Github, Facebook, Whatsapp, …..
=> Large diversity

    A common problem to all tools: Can be too much to manage!

Collaboration Tools

Conclusion:

   E-Mail will never die

   For individual projects, agreeing on a collaboration tool can reduce the email inbox